

WR Stands Pat for More Taxes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that he would expect to ask the legislature for new taxes if he is elected to a third term, but he said taxes would not be a major part of his campaign platform.

Rockefeller told a news conference that he still thought the need for new revenue was a pressing problem.

The governor said he was not ready to be specific about tax proposals at this time, but he noted that there had been no increase in the state sales tax and the income tax since 1957, the two big sources of tax revenue.

Rockefeller campaigned for re-election in 1968 on the need for raising more money by additional taxation. He proposed a $95 million tax program to the legislature in 1969 and the General Assembly gave him about $25 million of his package.

Rockefeller, holding the news conference shortly after the political filing deadline, said the entrance of Negro R. J. Hampton into the Republican primary would add more meaning to the primary.

"The Republican party has welcomed the Negro," Rockefeller said. "The Negro has felt that he could participate in politics in the Republican party and be welcome. It's perfectly appropriate that a Negro would run in the Republican primary."

Rockefeller said without elaboration that he had heard rumors that Democrats had encouraged Hampton to run.

He noted that no black had filed in the Democratic primary, which has a field of eight candidates.

The governor declined comment on the Democratic field, although he repeated that he would "relish" a race against former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, one of the eight candidates.

Rockefeller said a feature of his campaign would be promotion of the proposed new state constitution, which he called "one of the most important things that will be on the ballot this fall."

He said he was ready for criticism that he spends too much time away from the governor's office and that he would not change his method of operating if he is re-elected.

House Turns Down Nixon Postal Bill

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A postal reform-pay boost package backed by President Nixon and the postal unions has been tentatively rejected by the House in favor of its own more limited version.

The House Tuesday refused on a 219-139 vote to substitute the reform-pay package negotiated by the Nixon administration and most postal unions for one forged by the House Post Office Committee.

But the House bill also faces attempts at heavy revision and there is a cloakroom talk of passing an 8 per cent pay raise for mailmen without postal reform at the risk of a presidential veto.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., contended the House bill was unacceptable and urged the House to take up the package negotiated by the administration and postal unions in the wake of the nation's first mail strike last March.

"If you vote no on this," Udall said, "you're voting against (AFL-CIO President) George Meany, the AFL-CIO unions and the President of the United States and saying 'No, you shouldn't have a vote on your package.'"

A key difference in the committee bill would make the pay boost for mailmen retroactive to April 18, while the administration package called for the raises to be effective upon passage. Also, the committee version provides for easier congressional vetoes of future postal rate increases.

The bill would turn the mails — controlled by Congress for 181 years — over to an independent U.S. Postal Service with corporate powers to put them on a self-paying basis by 1978.

The postal service would set its own mail rates subject to congressional veto, negotiate pay and working conditions with postal unions and sell bonds to finance modernization and construction.

The 8 per cent pay boost is expected to cost $538.2 million for the full fiscal year starting July 1 plus $107.6 million for the retroactive pay to April 18.

came," the broadcast said. Later Tuesday night, the report continued, Israeli planes raided Southern Syria. "One enemy plane was hit before the raiders withdrew," the broadcast said.

Airport sources in Beirut said Syria closed its airspace to commercial traffic for three hours, forcing cancellation or rerouting of a number of international flights.

On the Israeli-Egyptian front, Cairo said its warplanes crossed the Suez Canal for the first time in nearly two weeks and hit Israeli positions along the northern half of the waterway. An Egyptian spokesman said the planes scored "direct hits" and returned safely. The Israelis claimed they destroyed one jet.

Postal Reform: What and Why

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here is a summary of the postal reform-pay boost on which the House began debate Tuesday:

The Bill: The House bill would create an independent U.S. Postal Service with corporate powers to put the mails on a self-paying basis by 1978 and boost mailmen's pay 8 per cent retroactive to April 18.

The Controversy: The major House fights are over potential compulsory union membership for mailmen, and the retroactive pay.

The Prospects: The House is expected to pass the bill rather than risk another nationwide mail strike threatened for next week but there is room for a surprise defeat. A filibuster is threatened in the Senate but approval is expected there also.

Background: President Nixon originally wanted creation of a postal corporation to wipe out mail deficits of up to $1.2 billion a year but that met heavy opposition in Congress. Creation of the U.S. Postal Service within the government — tied to the 8 per cent pay boost — was negotiated by the administration and postal unions after the mail strike in March and is supported by the President.

Hippies Quiet Down in Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four hippie-type clan members who disrupted proceedings at pre-trial hearings became models of decorum at the opening of their trial on charges of murdering actress Sharon Tate and six others.

Shaggy-haired Charles Manson and three women followers in gaily colored dresses watched quietly Tuesday as jury selection began. All rose when asked to face the 60 prospective jurors who filed into the spectator section of the courtroom.

The defendants were impassive as the judge read each count of the murder-conspiracy charges against them.

The three women, their long hair falling over their shoulders, giggled and smiled at friends in the spectator section. They are Susan Atkins, 21, Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, and Leslie Van Houten, 20, one-time members of a roving communal "family" led by Manson, 35, known by members as "God" and "Christ."

The four, who were ejected from court last week for refusing to sit down and obey rules, followed their attorneys obediently into the chambers of Superior Court Judge Charles Older for private questioning of prospective jurors.

The first day of jury selection indicated a lengthy search for 12 persons who will meet all qualifications and be able to stay away from home and work for the trial which is expected to last six months. The judge has ordered the jury sequestered in a hotel for the duration of the trial.

All nine prospective jurors questioned Tuesday were excused.

Seven said they would suffer personal hardship if locked up for six months. They cited business obligations, family responsibilities and vacation plans.

Two men were excused when they said they would not impose the death penalty.

Miss Tate, pregnant blonde wife of film director Roman Polanski, was found stabbed to death at her home last Aug. 9, amid hoods, ropes and bloody scrawlings. Dead with her, of gunshot and knife wounds, were four visitors.

Two wealthy market owners, Mr. and Mrs. Leno LaBianca, were found similarly slain the next night.

NECK AND NECK RACE

Dear Helen:

I'm starting my first office job, and I have got the appropriate haircut—three inches shorter than the one I wore at college.

Now my father insists that I also get a necktie! I am a scarf man, and see no reason why I can't wear mine with sports jackets. I also go for turtlenecks—almost anything but a necktie, which chokes me.

Do I have to give up all my individuality for the establishment? — BARRY

Dear BARRY:

How about a temporary concession? Wear a necktie until you ease the joint. Then, if you aren't totally surrounded by white shirt-dark suit organization men, try a scarf, but bring along your necktie in your pocket. In case the big boss is too square for kerchiefs. — H.

Dear Helen:

I was suspended from my government job for wearing a turtleneck instead of a shirt and necktie. If office girls can wear skirts eight inches above the knee and necklines down to here, why can't men have some leeway? — ROLF

Dear ROLF:

Why indeed? I hope you asked the same question of your Hearing Officer. — H.

Four months ago the guy I loved broke up with me. I have never felt so hurt in my whole life. One day he was like always, the next he called it quits. No reason.

Always before I've been able to fall in love again. But now, even though I am over that guy, and have gone out with other fellows, I can't feel any emotion. In fact, I'm bored with them.

It's as though my heart has closed up for fear I'll end up hurt again. Not that I've lost trust in men. I really want to care about somebody, but I can't.

I keep telling myself it takes time. If you could tell me how to speed up my recovery so I'll be able to love again I'll appreciate it. — DEAD LOVE BEAT

Dear DLB:

Your "broken heart" has healed, but hurt pride takes much longer to mend. Perhaps you need this stand-off time so that you won't make the same mistake twice. Really, is it so necessary to be constantly in love? — H.

Cubs and Cardinals Both Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Grabarkewitz and Dick Dietz aren't making much headway with National League All-Star voters, but they've left a lasting impression on two more National League pitchers.

Grabarkewitz slammed a fourth inning homer off Pittsburgh's Bob Veale to give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 1-0 victory over the Pirates and Dietz three-run blast off Chicago's Bill Hands carried the San Francisco Giants past the Cubs 3-2 Tuesday night.

The Dodgers' clutch-hitting third baseman and the Giants' slugging catcher are both among the league's Top Ten batters, but their names don't appear on the All-Star ballots, which were made up before the start of the season and distributed recently to fans across the country.

And, while Atlanta's Rico Carty, another torrid hitter who was left off the ballot, has received enough write-in votes to place third in the early outfield balloting, neither Grabarkewitz nor Dietz was among the top six at his position when the first returns were made public Monday.

But the pitchers haven't been able to ignore Grabarkewitz, a .339 batter who has won four games with homers, and Dietz has left his mark on them, too, with a .326 average, 13 homers and 52 runs batted in.

Elsewhere in the NL, the New York Mets topped Cincinnati 8-1; San Diego blanked St. Louis 4-0; Philadelphia nipped Houston 2-1 in 13 innings and Atlanta downed Montreal 7-5.

In the American League, the New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox 6-2; Minnesota topped Washington 7-3; Detroit bounced Oakland 5-1; Boston outscored Kansas City 7-5 and Cleveland pasted California 9-2. Milwaukee's game at Baltimore was postponed because of wet grounds.

Grabarkewitz' sixth homer of the year, a two-out shot in the fourth inning, decided a pitching duel between Vale and winner Don Sutton, who stopped the Pirates on four hits and struck out nine.

Dietz connected in the second inning after a walk and an error by rookie shortstop Roger Metzger, giving Gaylord Perry a 3-0 lead, and the Giants' right-hander checked the Cubs on three hits, including a two-run homer by Ron Santo in the seventh, to gain his 10th victory.

Both were philosophical about their early non-support in the voting for the July 14 All-Star classic at Cincinnati.

"Heck, I've been struggling for the last ten days, anyway, so I couldn't expect any more," Grabarkewitz said of his meager total of 3,151 write-in votes among some 240,000 cast in the first week of balloting. "Besides, Perez is the best third baseman in the league, anyway, so why bother?"

The Reds' Tony Perez, batting .368 and leading the circuit in home runs, with 23, and RBI, with 66, has been the top vote-getter at his position.

No other third baseman tops Grabarkewitz' average, but he trailed five others in the voting, including St. Louis' Mike Shannon, who missed the first two months of the season with a kidney ailment.

"I don't see how they could have put me on the All-Star ballot," said Dietz. "It was too early. But if I continue to hit well up to the All-Star break, I feel I'd have to be chosen one way or another. I'd like to go. . . it's been my boyhood dream."

Johany Bench of the Reds, who has walloped 20 homers and driven in 57 runs, is the runaway leader among the catchers. But five other receivers topped Dietz' 3,292 votes, including Philadelphia's Tim McCarver and Chicago's Randy Hundley who have been out for long periods with injuries, and the Mets' Jerry Grote, a .156 hitter.

At New York, Jim McAndrew weathered a shaky start and two rain delays to hurl the Mets past the Reds for their fourth straight victory. McAndrew gave up a run in the first inning and four hits through the first two, then scattered four more the rest of the way.

Cleon Jones led the winners' 13-hit attack against Jim Merritt, 11-5, and three Cincinnati relievers with two singles and a double.

Dave Roberts, called out of the San Diego bullpen after Mike Corkins pulled a groin muscle warming up for the second inning, handcuffed St. Louis on six hits. The Padres broke a scoreless tie against Steve Carlton in the seventh on Ivan Murrell's leadoff homer and a three-run double by Clarence Gaston.

Doc Edwards punched a bases-loaded single off Jim Bouton with two out in the 13th, giving Philadelphia the nod over the Astros.

The Braves built an early 7-1 lead, then hung on to end a three-game losing string, with Milt Pappas picking up the victory in relief of George Stone.

Brazil Wins Section of Davis Cup

SAO PAULO, Brazil, (AP)—Brazil's Luis Tavares defeated Ivan Molina of Colombia 4-6; 2-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-3 early Wednesday, giving Brazil the South American championship in the Davis Cup tennis tournament.

Brazil took the five-match series 3-2 to move into the Davis Cup quarter-finals.

Brazil will now face the winner of the Canada-New Zealand match.

Collegiate World Series Showdown

OMAHA (AP)—After a five-day grind in mostly 90-degree temperatures, the double elimination College World Series reached a showdown stage Wednesday with three unbeaten teams remaining in the original field of eight.

Second-ranked Texas (39-7) will meet No. 3 Florida State (48-8) Wednesday at 8 p.m. CDT. The winner will face No. 1 Southern California (50-13) at the same time Thursday for the championship. The Trojans drew a Wednesday bye.

The windup includes teams backed by previous world series experience. Texas is in its 14th appearance and won in 1949 and 1950 to be the only club ever to take successive titles. Florida State is here for the fifth time with a previous best showing being fourth place in 1962. USC has made the big show 12 times and won it five, the last in 1968.

Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson said he would start senior right-hander James Street (8-1) Wednesday night. Street, quarterback of Texas' national football champions, has been nursing a pulled groin muscle and in a start Sunday against Ohio U, he lasted two innings, striking out four, before being hampered.

Jack Stallings of Florida State is expected to counter with unbeaten Gene Amman, junior right-hander, who has 14 victories. He made his world series debut with a remarkable 0.60 earned run average Saturday and fired a two-hitter to blank Arizona 4-0.

Texas blew a 7-1 lead in losing to USC 8-7 in 4 innings Tuesday night and absorbed its first series defeat. The game was only one inning short of a tourney record.

In the first game, Florida State eliminated Ohio U, 2-0.

Hazeltine Is Scene of Nat'l Open

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHASKA, Minn. (AP)—Mystery, and perhaps guesswork, shrouding the Hazeltine National course, subsides Thursday with the start of the first round in the 70th United States Open Golf Championship.

But as golfers completed practice rounds today, a great debate continued:

Is the par 72, 7,151-yard Hazeltine layout really a monster? Touring pro Dave Hill described the course after a practice round: "It looked like a man destroyed a beautiful farm."

A differing view came from 1969 open champion Orville Moody.

"I plan to get around in 67 at least once or twice," said the former Army sergeant who exploded into golf headlines with his title at Houston last year. "It's my type of layout, fairly long and fairly tough."

The scenic course, carved out of rolling Minnesota woodlands, offers a network of 10 long dog legs, narrow and treelined fairways and giant, rolling putting surfaces. There's plenty of water and sand.

Jack Nicklaus, a two-time Open champion, has said the course lacks definition because of the many blind landing areas on wood shots. Arnold Palmer was not impressed by the four par 5s, the longest which stretches 592 yards.

But Palmer said he likes the course because "the other holes are exciting."

While they wait for the mystery to be solved, most professional Don Waryan took great enjoyment in the pretournament guesswork.

"I have to say Billy Casper, Lee Trevino and Gary Player are the favorites the way they have been going," said Waryan, who probably knows the course better than anyone. He has been its only pro since it was built in 1962.

"And you might even consider Lou Graham, who won the Minnesota Classic here three years ago," said Waryan. Graham shot a two-under par 72-hole total of 286 to win the Classic in a field which did not include the Palmers, Players or Nicklaus.

The big name pros are predicting scores of 280 to 290 will win the prestigious Open championship worth $30,000 in prize money and perhaps $1 million in endorsements.

"The most fun in any tournament is picking the final score," said Waryan. "I'd have to say 285 will win it. If the wind swirls up and the course doesn't dry out, it might go to 288 or higher."

A series of thunderstorms the past week left the course soggy and the weather muggy. But only a slight chance of rain is expected for the first round.

Waryan predicts the most dramatic action on dogleg holes 1, 6, 10, 17, and two of the four par 3s, 4 and the 214-yard 16.

The Hazeltine pro calls No. 6-a dogleg left leading through woods to a tricky green guarded by water—the most difficult on the course but says "the tournament can be won or lost" on 17. This slight dogleg right travels through a narrow neck of trees to a green surrounded by water and sand.

The first threesome in the field of 136 professionals and 14 amateurs begins play at 9 a.m. (EDT), Thursday.

Among the featured three-somes are Gene Littler, Julius Boros and Gary Player, three former champions; Casper, British Open Champion Tony Jacklin and U.S. Amateur king Steve Melnyk; Moody, Dick Lotz and Nicklaus; Trevino, Sam Snead and Frank Beard, and Palmer, Hill and PGA Champion Raymond Floyd.

Snead, in his 27th Open, refused to take part in the great debate about the course and remarked: "We all have to play it."

Semi-Finals of Soccer Title Play

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Much of the world and all of Brazil, West Germany, Uruguay and Italy will be looking hysterically toward Mexico today at the semifinals of the World Cup soccer championships.

Brazil, favored to reach the final and win the Cup for the third time, clashes with Uruguay in all-South American meeting at Guadalajara, while the two European teams square off at Mexico City's 112,000-seat Azteca Stadium, with the Germans favored.

Upsets Hold Spotlight at Wimbledon

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP)—It was difficult to tell Tuesday whether the biggest upsets were on the court in the London Grass Court Tennis Championships or in the seedings for Wimbledon.

At the same time the seedings for next week's Wimbledon championships were being released, three of the lower seeds were being upset at London by non-rated players.

Dick Crealy of Australia stunned Clark Graebner of New York 6-2, 1-6, 6-0 in the second round only hours after Graebner was seeded ninth for Wimbledon.

Then Jaidip Mukerjee of India surprised No. 11 Tom Okker of the Netherlands 6-2, 2-6, 9-7, and finally Alexander Metreveli of Russia overturned Roger Taylor, No. 16, of Britain, 4-6, 6-3, 8-6.

The other upsets were left for the seedings, which left off Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., the No. 2 U.S. player, and Nikil Pilic of Yugoslavia.

Included were some of Europe's best clay court players—Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia at No. 6 and Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia at No. 13.

"This seeding list is a shocker," Richey said, noting that Wimbledon is played on grass, not clay. "Why seed Franulovic? He hasn't won a single big tournament on grass."

Pilic, not competing here, only last week won the West of England title by beating Okker, John Newcombe, who is seeded No. 2 at Wimbledon, and Laver, No. 1.

Capt. Mike Gibson, the Wimbledon tournament referee, called the seedings "a difficult job."

"Somebody is bound to complain," he said. "We base our list on what the players did at Wimbledon last year and how they have fared since, especially on grass courts."

The only other upset of the day was Mrs. Carole Graebner's 6-4, 1-6, 7-5 victory over fellow New Yorker Julie Heldman, who is seeded No. 6 among the women for Wimbledon.

A number of other Americans, including No. 7 Stan Smith of Los Angeles, No. 15 Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Richey made it to the third round here.

Laver of Australia, considered the world's top player and favored to win his third straight Wimbledon crown, eliminated Premjit Lal of India 3-6, 6-4 in this final tuneup before the big championship. Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia, No. 1 in the women's, disposed of Kristy Pigeon of Danville, Calif., 6-2, 6-4 in a third round match.

A number of the other top seeds are not playing in singles here—Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., No. 3; Tony Roche and Ken Rosewall, both of Australia, Nos. 4-5, and among the women, Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., No. 2. Rosemary Casals of San Francisco was No. 5.

Simpson Switches to Denver

By BURL OSBORNE
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP)—Ralph Simpson, who once overshadowed pro basketball superstar Spencer Haywood, has abandoned Michigan State to join his old high school teammate on the Denver Rockets for a near $1 million contract.

Simpson, who averaged 29 points a game as a sophomore at Michigan State last year, was signed — like Haywood — as a "hardship" case by the Rockets of the American Basketball Association.

Haywood left the University of Detroit in August 1969 after his sophomore year, joined the Rockets and was named the league's rookie of the year and most valuable player during his first season.

"Haywood and Simpson are like brothers," said Rockets General Manager Donald W. Ringsby. "And I understand they play fantastically well together."

But Haywood, the ABA's leading scorer and rebounder last year, once played in Simpson's shadow. When Haywood was a senior and Simpson a junior at Pershing High School in Detroit, the 6-5 guard overshadowed Haywood in the final game, scoring 43 points to lead Pershing to the 1967 Michigan state championship.

"We have signed Simpson as a hardship case," said Ringsby. "His father has had a heart attack and is out of work. There are eight brothers and sisters all under 16. Ralph's mother is on Aid to Dependent Children. You can see the family is in desperate condition."

The Rockets said Simpson contacted them because he wanted to play with Haywood again.

Broyles Wins Coaches' Golf Tourney

BELLA VISTA, Ark. (AP)—Frank Broyles, head football coach at the University of Arkansas, won the coaches invitational golf tournament for the second time Tuesday.

Broyles shot a five-over-par 77 Tuesday to go with his sparkling 70 in Monday's opening round to win the title by five strokes over Oklahoma's Chuck Fairbanks.

Fairbanks ballooned to 79 Tuesday after an opening round 73 and ended the 36-hole event with a 152. Darrell Royal of Texas shot a 76 Tuesday and finished third at 154.

Bobby Dobbs of Texas-El Paso had a 77 for a 36-hole total of 156 and defending champion Vince Carillot of Tulsa, with an 82 Tuesday, and Doug Dickey of Florida, with an 85, tied at 160.

Harry King of the Little Rock bureau of The Associated Press shot his second 79 Tuesday for a 158 to win the division for sportswriters and broadcasters for the third time.

Allan Gilbert of Fayetteville Northwest Arkansas Times and Orville Henry of the Arkansas Gazette tied for second with 161 each.

White and Horton in Bat Duel

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Roy White and Willie Horton, two of the American League's premier left fielders, are red-hot . . . and playing it cool.

They refuse to get excited as their flaming bats continue to make a race of what once looked like a Baltimore run-away in the AL East.

White rapped a single, two-run double and two-run homer as the New York Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox 6-2 Tuesday night, running their latest winning streak to six games and pulling within two games of the Orioles, who were rained out of their scheduled contest with Milwaukee.

"I don't get excited," said White, who has 11 hits in his last 14 at-bats and has raised his batting average to .357, second to Minnesota's Rod Carew at .367. "I know how easy it is to go bad. I'm just taking things in stride and I'm going to be humble."

Horton collected two singles and drove in a run as the Detroit Tigers downed Oakland 5-1 behind Mike Kilkenny's four-hit, 11-strikeout pitching. Horton's RBI gave him 30 in his last 20 games and boosted his league-leading total to 55.

"I don't feel anything," said Horton, after the Tigers climbed to within 7½ games of the top. "We're winning and that's the important thing."

Elsewhere, Minnesota whipped Washington 7-3, Cleveland trounced skidding California 9-2 and Boston held off Kansas City 7-5.

In the National League, the New York Mets routed Cincinnati 8-1, San Francisco shaded the Chicago Cubs 3-2, Los Angeles nipped Pittsburgh 1-0, San Diego blanked St. Louis 4-0, Atlanta beat Montreal 7-5 and Philadelphia edged Houston 2-1 in 13 innings.

For those who think ballplayers are overcome by pennant fever, White says he felt more pressure when he was sent to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League in 1967 after spending the entire 1966 season with the Yankees.

White hit .343 in 84 games at Spokane and made it back to the majors for good midway through the season. He's improved steadily ever since, hitting 17 home runs in 1968 and raising his average to .290 last year.

With the Yanks trailing 2-1 in the sixth inning against Tommy John Tuesday night, Horace Clarke doubled, went to third on Bobby Murcer's single and White doubled them both home, eventually scoring himself on a wild pitch. He homered in the eighth off Danny Murphy, his 10th of the season.

Mel Stottlemyre, though touched for 11 hits, upped his record to 7-3 after an 0-3 start.

Mike Kilkenny and Jim Northrup shared the spotlight for Detroit with Horton. Kilkenny, starting for the first time in nearly a month, handled the A's with not any trouble until Joe Rudi doubled a run home in the eighth, and Northrup cracked his ninth homer and drove in another run with a single.

Horton says he hasn't even been following his RBI streak.

Leo Cardenas cracked four hits, pitcher Jim Perry three, George Mitterwald and Tony Oliva belted two-run homers and Cesar Tovar hit a two-run triple as the Twins defeated Washington and took a commanding 5½-game lead over the Angels in the AL West. Aurelio Rodriguez homered for the Senators.

Rich Hand scattered eight hits for his first complete game and Ray Foster and Roy Foster hit two-run homers in Cleveland's rout of California. The Angels lost for the sixth time in seven games.

The Indians jumped on Andy Messersmith for a run in the second inning and three in the third. Jim Spencer homered for the Angels.

Mike Andrews' grand slam homer snapped a 2-2 tie in the ninth and lifted the Red Sox past the Royals. Reggie Smith singled home another run in the inning as Boston took a 7-2 lead but the Royals battled back with three runs in their half before Smith caught Lou Piniella's drive against the left-center field fence with two runners aboard for the final out. Rico Petrocelli also homered for the winners.

Foster and Quarry Fight Tonight

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Fight fans will get a look at what could be in heavyweight champion Joe Frazier's future when Mac Foster meets Jerry Quarry in a scheduled 10-rounder tonight at Madison Square Garden.

They also will get a glimpse into the nostalgic past as part of a special ceremony honoring Jack Dempsey, who will be 75 next Wednesday.

Quarry, the young veteran from Bellflower, Calif., should be the toughest test yet for the massive Foster, who is gunning for a shot at Frazier.

Foster has knocked out all 24 of his opponents since turning pro after six years in the Marine Corps, including two tours in Vietnam.

But before the two Californians battle it out—Foster is from Fresno—the crowd will get a chance to see Dempsey in action.

Films will be shown on giant screens in the Garden of Dempsey's fights with Jess Willard and Luis Firpo and his famous "long count" bout with Gene Tunney.

Quarry, ranked fourth by the World Boxing Association one spot ahead of Foster, is two years younger than his rival, but the rest of the statistics belong to by Jose Cruz and Danny Napoleon combined for singles and a run in the seventh.

A single by winning pitcher George Winslow, a walk to Chip Carter and Crosby's triple to the right field corner pushed in two more runs in the eighth.

The Spurs' claimed that Petie Watts, who got a glove on the ball, was in foul territory when he made contact. But as usual, they lost the argument.

Napoleon's single, an error and Wayne Dees' single gave Arkansas an insurance run in the ninth.

The Spurs had Winslow on the ropes in the first when they scored twice and left the bases loaded. But they never scored again as the Arkansas lefthander recovered, retiring the last 13 Spurs he faced.

Singles by Ron Shelton and Rich Coggins, Watts' double and Scott McDonald's sacrifice fly to left gave the Spurs their only runs in the first inning.

In other games, Albuquerque whipped Shreveport 4-2, San Antonio blanked Amarillo 1-0 and El Paso defeated Memphis 4-2.

Foster.

The 6-foot-2½ ex-sergeant had a nine-inch reach advantage, and outweighs Quarry by about 19 pounds. Foster was expected to weigh 214 for the fight.

But Quarry had the edge in experience and the caliber of opponents. He has compiled a 35-4-4 record and although he was stopped by Frazier in seven rounds, he put up a good showing against the champion in the early rounds.

The bout will be carried on a special television network to some 65 cities throughout the country, with the New York area blacked out. The main event is scheduled for 10 p.m., EDT.

Speculates on Merger in Basketball

ATLANTA (AP) — Can there be a merger between the National and American Basketball Associations?

That question is likely to come under discussion today or Thursday at a meeting of the board of governors of the NBA—but the answer may lie in federal court.

A suit has been filed in U.S. District Court by the NBA Players Association, which seeks to bar a merger. The players are also challenging the NBA reserve clause.

A federal district judge has issued an order, restraining a merger until the suit can be heard. He asked that, meanwhile leagues and players agree on a merger plan that could be submitted to Congress.

That's where it stands. But until last week it appeared both leagues might hold summer meetings here at the same time, a coincidence that intrigued merger backers.

Since then, Jack Dolph, ABA president, said his league would meet in Denver, a location more convenient for western club owners.

Dolph had said previously "it would be advantageous to be at the same place to make a merger announcement" should the two leagues come to terms.

NBA officials promptly denied any knowledge of pending merger talks with the ABA. At that point, Dolph said the ABA meeting would be in Denver instead of Atlanta.

The NBA governors have more than the merger talks on their agenda. They are scheduled to discuss requests of the Players Association, the 1970-71 schedule and meet with American Broadcasting Co. officials to discuss telecasts for next season.

Drabowsky Traded to Baltimore

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Moe Drabowsky, a big name in the 1966 World Series with Baltimore, was the biggest name involved on the final day of trading, and the Orioles only hope history will repeat itself.

The Orioles gave up promising young infielder Bobby Floyd to Kansas City to get the 35-year-old reliever, who has a 1-2 record with two saves and a 3.25 earned run average this season. Baltimore must still remember his 6-0 record and his 6 2-3 inning, 11 strike out performance in the World Series with them in 1966 before the Royals picked him in the 1968 expansion draft.

The Orioles, their Eastern Division lead cut to two games, also traded reserve outfielder Dave May to Milwaukee for minor league pitchers Buzz Stephen and Dick Baney. To make room for May, the Brewers sent recently acquired Hank Allen to their Rochester farm club.

Cincinnati, the leader in the National League's Western Division, bolstered itself by acquiring 31-year-old utility outfielder Ty Cline from Montreal for minor league outfielder Clyde Mashore, 25.

The Reds then sent outfielder Jay Ward to the minors.

The biggest trade earlier Monday sent veteran pitchers

Barry Moore and Bob Miller from Cleveland to the Chicago White Sox for outfielder Buddy Bradford and pitcher Tommie Sisk, who was sent to the Indians' Wichita farm club.

Milwaukee also acquired free agent pitcher Bob Humphreys, brought outfielder-first baseman Bob Burda back from the minors and sold reliever Bob Locker to Oakland.

The White Sox sent veteran reliever Jerry Arigo to the minors, while San Diego recalled pitcher Ron Willis and outfielder Larry Stahl.

St. Louis recalled pitcher Jerry Reuss and Cleveland did the same with pitcher Rich Austin. Detroit called up pitcher Jerry Robertson and sent pitcher Dennis Saunders to the minors, while Atlanta asked waivers on veteran reliever Ron Kline.

Post will be joined by Ken Honeysuckle of Little Rock as the state's representatives in the national tournament. Honeysuckle broke a three-way tie for second by birdying the first extra hole of a sudden death playoff. He carded a 149 at the end of regulation play.

Doubts Any Change in State Draft

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Col. Willard Hawkins, director of the state Selective Service, said Tuesday he doubted that the U. S. Supreme Court decision on draft exemptions for conscientious objectors would have much impact in Arkansas.

The court held Monday that persons who object to military service for moral and ethical reasons, and not for purely religious reasons, are entitled to conscientious objector status.

Hawkins said he did not think the ruling would stimulate a large increase in draft exemptions.

"The burden is still on the registrant to prove to his local board the sincerity of his objection to serving in the military," Hawkins said. "If the board doubts that sincerity, it can still reject the request. There's nothing automatic about it."

First presidential wedding solemnized in the White House was on June 2, 1886, when Frances Folsom became the bride of Grover Cleveland.

Texas Gridder to Play for Harding

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Larry Beck of Gainesville, Tex., has accepted a football scholarship to Harding College, the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference said today.

Edward Douglas of McGehee has signed to play with Arkansas A&M.

In basketball, Joey Holaway of Jonesboro has signed with Arkansas College, and Bob Brown of Sullivan, Mo., Randy Long of Portageville, Mo., and William Buckner of Brentwood, Mo., have signed with College of the Ozarks.

Revenue Dept. Passes Rehearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Revenue Commissioner Bob K. Scott said Tuesday his department would not ask for a rehearing of the state Supreme Court's decision that declared the real estate transfer tax unconstitutional.

Scott said, however, that he had heard that the attorney for the Arkansas Children's Colony and the state Parks, Recreation and Travel Commission would seek a rehearing. Each would have benefited from the tax.

The commissioner also said the Revenue Department would not refund interest on the transfer taxes that already have been collected and which have been held in escrow pending the ruling by the Supreme Court. Scott said that by July 1 the interest would amount to about $45,000.

The state will refund about $1.7 million.

Day Care Regulations Explained

Prior to the passage of Act 434 in 1969 there was no law in Arkansas requiring a license for day care facilities. Within recent years as more mothers of young children entered the labor force, the need for child care facilities has increased. Many very poor facilities have sprung up. As conditions worsened it became evident that some kind of law was necessary for the protection of our children. Many children were left during the day in crowded, insanitary and unsafe places and some unattended.

Under Act 434: A. It shall be unlawful to operate or assist in the operation of any "child care facility" not licensed by the State Dept. of Public Welfare, herein after referred to as the "Welfare Dept.," after Sept. 1, 1970. (Section 4-B of Act 434).

B. The Welfare Dept. shall promulgate and publish rules and regulations setting minimum standards governing and grading, revocation, refusal and supervision of license for a child care facility. (Section 4-A of Act 434).

C. The Welfare Dept. will adopt rules and regulations assuring the proper care of children in a child care facility (Section 4-B of Act 434).

The Welfare Dept. has now set up minimum standards which apply to all day care facilities. There are three main types of day care facilities according to Mrs. Kathlene Blythe, area day care center which is set up for children in the 3-6 age group. These children remain in the facility for 5 hours or more of a 24-hour day. The day care family home is especially suitable for infants and toddlers and includes the children who need after-school care. The number of children in day care family homes is limited to 6. The third type of facility is a group family home. This facility offers family like care in a family residence for up to 12 children ages 3 and above. Mrs. Blythe emphasized that there is no fee charged for a license.

With the law now going into effect it is hoped that parents and citizens will become aware of what is available and what is needed in the way of good child care.

More information regarding licensing requirements may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Kathlene Blythe whose office is in the Clark County Welfare Dept. 310 Clay St. Arkadelphia.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK AP — CBS WRAPPED UP ITS "60 Minutes" series for the season Tuesday night with a program that consisted primarily of a couple of interesting ideas that did not pan out too conclusively.

Mike Wallace and a camera team accompanied a plane-load of soldiers en route to their year tour in Vietnam. Three days later they flew home with a plane-load of veterans. In Wallace interviews on both trips, most comments and opinions on the war, on their own and the nation's involvement and on protests in the United States were about the same as found in any man-on-the-street sampling at home.

Wallace poled the men on both trips. Outbound, he found 120 soldiers in favor of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, 78 against and nine asleep. Homebound, the vote was 148 for involvement, 46 against and 14 asleep.

One sidelight of interest was the way today's soldiers ride off to war and return; by commercial airliner complete with stewardesses.

This was followed by a report by Harry Reasoner on his conversations in Spain. Enforcement of drug laws is tough and a conviction for trafficking in marijuana—from giving a cigarette to a friend to handling it in quantity—carries a minimum sentence of six years and one day.

Reasoner visited a couple of Spanish prisons where some Americans seemed calm about their plight. The institutions seemed clean and there seemed to be no doubt that the Americans inside had been involved with marijuana or hashish.

One young man, AWOL from the Army and traveling with several passports, had been arrested with three friends—two of them their girl friends who were free on bail because both were pregnant.

It was hard to feel very sympathetic about these free souls and was hard not to wonder about their parents since many obviously came from middle-income families.

For the third feature, the producers found a jazz band packing in after-work crowds in a New York hotel grill room. Half tongue in cheek, this was heralded as the beginning of a resurgence of the jazz band—"the new sound of 1938." Reasoner called it. This seemed to be conclusion jumping since it takes more than one swallow or one jazz band to create a trend, particularly this summer.

86 Homemakers Attend Meeting

Agnew Raps Member of Nixon Panel

By HUGH MORGAN
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew criticized a young member of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest today and said if remarks attributed to Joseph Rhodes Jr. are accurate he should resign.

Rhodes, 22, a junior fellow at Harvard University was appointed Saturday by President Nixon to serve on the commission headed by former Republican Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

In an interview published Monday, the New York Times quoted Rhodes as saying in reference to suggestions that the Nixon administration has provoked campus violence. "The kids have got to feel someone has the power to really investigate the grave charges being brought against the government."

Commenting on the interview at a news conference today, Agnew said:

"Rhodes lost no time in letting the public know how he intends to utilize his new post to lift him from obscurity of an unpublicized position to national notoriety."

Agnew emphasized his remarks about Rhodes should not be interpreted as an implied criticism of the President.

Associate Home Economist, Mrs. Rebecca Crouch, Associate Home Economist-Nutrition-Youth.

Poor quality—off-flavors, loss of color, poor texture, lower food value, toughness, dryness, and many other problems were listed by homemakers.

The Extension Home Economists discussed how these problems could be prevented through selecting quality products, using proper processing and packaging procedures and good storage conditions. These measures were applied to fruits, vegetables, meats, and prepared foods.

The Extension Home Economists invite homemakers to call the Extension Office 777-5771 for more information on problems. The County Extension References will be mailed free upon request.

Elizabeth Ellis, Extension Home Management Specialist, Little Rock, assisted the Hempstead County Extension Service recently with advising local homemakers on choosing and using freezer equipment. The specialist helped homemakers think how they could reduce operating costs and get the most from their freezer.

Question, homemakers? Many of the 86 homemakers asked Miss Ellis, "What do I do if my freezer stops?" "How do you keep odors out of freezer or get rid of an odor?" "Is it alright to refreeze food?" "Which is better or more economical—to buy meat for the freezer in retail cuts or wholesale cuts?" "What size freezer should I buy?—Chest or upright?"

Miss Ellis explained to homemakers how poor-quality production could result when they expected the freezer to freeze much at one time. She advised homemakers not to freeze over 2-3 pounds of food for each cubic foot of freezing capacity. This would enable the freezer to freeze the food quickly and not lower the quality of food already in freezer.

Miss Ellis advises the County Extension Home Economist continually on equipment problems. The County Extension Office is available to advise homemakers on equipment problems.

Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, commended the local equipment dealers on their interest in keeping homemakers informed. Dealers cooperating by displaying freezer equipment at the educational activity were: Bud Collier, Collier Furniture and Appliance; Jim Crippin, Goodyear; Hervey Holt, Hamm Tire and Appliance; C. R. Burham, Olasco; David Still, Sears and Roebuck; and Royce Smith, A & P Grocery.

Mr. Still and Mr. Perry Henley, Western Auto, assisted in planning with homemakers to plan the training.

The Hope Star and KXAR were recognized on their continued interest in homemakers being aware of educational opportunities.

Filibuster Blocks Anti-War Vote

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of proposed war curbs on U.S. activities in Cambodia have resumed foot-dragging tactics in an effort to delay a final vote on the measure that has occupied the Senate for six weeks.

A dozen amendments to the Cooper-Church proposal remained under consideration today, including a proposal to permit the sale of Freedom Fighter jets to Thailand and South Vietnam.

As debate continued Tuesday, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, already resigned to keeping the Senate in session the rest of the year, renewed his vow to keep the Cambodia issue before the Senate "until doomsday."

Several hours earlier, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., denounced both sides for delaying tactics and threatened to resign unless the issue could be resolved and the Senate could turn its attention to a pressing $4.5 billion education bill.

Mansfield said opponents of the Cooper-Church amendment, which seeks to restrict U.S. operations in Cambodia after July 1, "appear to believe they will be winning a great victory if they keep this going until June 30," the date President Nixon says all U.S. troops will be out of Cambodia.

"But they are mistaken," Mansfield said. "What we are interested in, and what this amendment addressed itself to, is what happens after June 30. We will be just as interested in passing it on July 1 or thereafter as we would be in getting a vote by June 30."

Cotton charged the Senate has become "a scene of paralysis" with debate "droning along day after day about the difference between Tweedle-Dum and Tweedle-Dee."

The New Hampshire Republican said he will "make myself a perpetual nuisance on this until the education measure is brought up 'or I am going to resign as a senator.' He is the senior GOP member of the appropriations subcommittee on education.

Mansfield tried last week to get a time limitation agreement on both the education appropriation and a catch-all supplementary money measure but it was blocked by senators wanting to debate school desegregation riders in the bills.

Also last week, after the Senate rejected 52 to 47 a key amendment to water down the Cooper-Church proviso, leaders of both parties predicted the debate could be concluded this week.

But Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told reporters Tuesday he doubts the end will come before "the end of next week."

The Cooper-Church amendment is attached to the military sales bill to provide weapons and credit for military purchases for other nations. Allott predicted quick Senate-House agreement on the bill even if it includes the controversial Cooper-Church rider.

But further delays could be expected, he said, if Senate conferees "lock it up for a long time" by refusing to yield to House opposition to the Cambodian war restrictions.

Senior members of the Foreign Relations Committee, who will be the Senate conferees on the measure, have said they are much more interested in the Cooper-Church amendment than in the military sales bill.

Negro Is Mayor of Newark, N.J.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Kenneth A. Gibson, a 38-year-old civil engineer, has been elected as the first Negro mayor of a major Northeastern city, defeating an incumbent accused of corruption in office.

A runoff election Tuesday gave Gibson victory by 54,892 votes to 43,339 for Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio, 56, who held the office for eight years and ran for another term while standing trial on federal charges.

After Gibson was declared winner, hundreds of Negroes paraded the main street of this racially divided city, New Jersey's largest, some shouting "Power to the people!" and waving clenched fists in a Black Power salute.

Gibson, pledging to work for an end to chronic black-white confrontations, declared: "We must begin to reconcile this community at this moment."

Newark, with a population over 400,000, has a majority of black residents, but Negroes trail whites 3 to 2 in voting registrations.

The key to Gibson's victory appeared to be white votes from areas where former Fire Director John Caufield, who endorsed Gibson, ran strongly in the first election May 12.

Gibson, who takes office July 1, will face a City Council dominated by whites and Addonizio supporters, although he carried three Negro councilmen into office with him.

New Voting Bill Nears Passage

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A double-barreled bill designed to lower the voting age to 18 and continue legislation protecting black voters in the South headed toward final House action today with Democratic leaders confident of victory.

However, there was strong opposition from administration-backed Republicans to the Senate-passed bill, which also provides a nationwide ban on literacy tests and establishment of a uniform residency requirement for presidential election voting.

The opposition was led by GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford, who sought to send the measure back to a House-Senate conference where he hoped the voting age reduction, which he said was unconstitutional, could be deleted.

The possibility of a veto has been hinted at by some opponents of the bill, but most Democrats regard it as unlikely.

The bill extends the right to vote to all persons 18 years old or older in all elections after Jan. 1, 1971. It provides for a prompt Supreme Court test to decide its constitutionality.

At present, only four states permit voting by persons under 21—Georgia and Kentucky, where the age limit is 18; Alaska, where it is 19, and Hawaii, where it is 20. In the last five years, 20 other states have rejected efforts to lower the voting age.

Supporters of the provision, noting that approximately half the combat deaths in Vietnam come within the age group of 18 to 21, argued a person old enough to fight and die for his country is old enough to vote for its leaders.

The opponents, besides citing constitutional grounds, said 18-year-olds are not mature enough to vote and point to violent protests on campuses to support their position.

The voting rights section of the bill continues until 1975. The act has been hailed as the most successful civil rights bill ever enacted. Its key provisions expire in August.

Aimed primarily at Southern states where there had been widespread evidence of discrimination against Negro voters in the past, the 1965 Voting Rights Act has led to vastly increased voter participation by blacks and the election of scores of local black officials.

Negro Wages Advance During the Decade, U.S. Census Reports

Marshall Balks at Killing Dogs

YELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Yellville City Marshal Coy Hendrix said Tuesday he would not obey City Council orders to enforce a dog ordinance by shooting unlicensed dogs even though he is threatened with dismissal.

The ordinance requires disposal of any unlicensed dog that has been held five days without someone claiming it.

Hendrix said city officials had advised him "that if we take a few dogs out and shoot them, the others would buy tags for their dogs."

"I'm not going to go take some kid's pet out and shoot it," Hendrix said. "I wouldn't much like somebody to do me that way and I don't think the people here should be treated that way."

The City Council voted at its last meeting to instruct Hendrix to enforce the dog ordinance. The council said it should take proper steps to dislodge Hendrix if he does not take action.

After studying drama and speech at Northwestern University, he served three years in wartime as a radio operator aboard bombers in the Aleutians.

He and his actress wife, Lydia Clarke, a former university classmate, then lived in a $30-a-month apartment here until Chuck got his first Broadway break in 1948 in a supporting role in Katharine Cornell's production of "Antony and Cleopatra."

Following appearances in other Broadway shows, summer stock and television plays, Heston landed a contract with producer Hal Wallis for "Dark City" without even taking a screen test. Hollywood had found another of the stars it likes best—those that can bring in the big buck.

"I like my life. I'm very happy," said Chuck.

11 per cent of the population, got 28 per cent of the new craftsman and operative openings that went to family men between 1960 and 1969, the report said.

During the same period, the bureau said in the unpublished report, the median income of the married Negro blue collar worker jumped 44 per cent while income for white married men in the same occupations rose 27 per cent.

The report dealt only with the earnings of black and white husbands and did not include the 30 per cent of the nation's 5 million Negro households headed by a woman.

Craftsmen and operatives include industrial workers as well as specialists such as carpenters and plumbers. Not included are clerical and sales workers, service employees and laborers.

Poverty expert Sar Levitan of George Washington University's Center for Manpower Policy Studies said the figures indicate a slow but sure breakdown in racial barriers.

"They are very real changes," the economist said. "They are not just isolated in any particular geographic area or in any specific industry."

The Census Bureau prepared the tabulation at the request and expense of Levitan, who is studying America's blue collar work force.

"We are talking about a total of 1.4 million new jobs with 385,000 of them for Negroes. That's not tokenism if Negroes get nearly 30 per cent of the new jobs. That's way above their proportion of the population," Levitan said.

Before the strides forward in the blue collar field, Levitan said, Negroes were able to make major economic gains only as white collar workers.

First Farm Data Sheets to Computer

The Hempstead County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) County Office last week mailed the first batch of data sheets to New Orleans for computer processing of 1970 farm program payments to local producers.

County ASCS Committee Chairman H. B. Gilbert reported that certification had been received from 240 County farmers as of June 8, 1970, and their papers had been sent on for entry into computers to help assure early program payments. These will be made to farmers as soon after July 1 as possible, and all are expected to be completed by the end of August.

About 300 producers in Hempstead County are expected to certify compliance with 1970 farm program provisions in order to earn program payments.

"Farmers should not certify until they have their program crops in, their diverted acreage in good shape and enough conserving base acres—and they know beyond question the exact measurement of their program crops and diversions acres," Mr. Gilbert said.

The Chairman added, "I can't overemphasize that program participants must certify their acreages accurately."

"If a producer makes a mistake, he can lose some or all of his payments. And he has no leeway for correcting mistakes after he has certified his acreage and applied for payment. Spot checks can be made at any time after certification. The farm program this year includes early certification, early payments, and early spot checks."

Measurement service may be obtained at cost from the County ASCS Office by farm program participants. This service provides assurance to producers of having the exact crop acreage which was allocated or allotted to their farms. Final date for requesting measurement service from the County Office for 1970 program crops is July 15, 1970.

As soon as a producer certifies, the County ASCS Office prepares and mails a data sheet which is 'read' by an optical scanner in New Orleans. The completed data then goes to a computer in Kansas City which computes and prepares the farm program payments.

From now until farm program certification is complete in Hempstead County, the local ASCS Office will mail data sheets at least weekly.

Negro in Field for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sixty-six Republicans, including 12 Negroes, had filed for state and district offices by the time the filing deadline passed at noon Tuesday.

The GOP will have four candidates for governor, two for lieutenant governor, two for secretary of state, 11 for the Arkansas Senate, 43 for the House, two for circuit judge and two for prosecutor.

One black seeks a seat in the state Senate, 10 more are running for the House and another, the Rev. R. J. Hampton of North Little Rock, is among the gubernatorial candidates.

No Negro filed for state or district office as a Democrat.

Neal Sox Johnson, executive director of the state GOP, said after the ticket closed, "It's a glorious day for the Republican party."

Johnson said he stands behind his recent prediction that at least 20 Republicans will win legislative seats.

The 13 candidates for governor, including the four Republicans, eight Democrats and Walter L. Carruth of the American Party of Arkansas, represent a record field.

The previous record was nine in 1948 and in 1966. In 1948, all gubernatorial candidates were Democrats. In 1966, seven Democrats and two Republicans ran.

Mrs. Jean Starnes, 48, a Little Rock housewife, tried to join the gubernatorial contingent shortly before the filing deadline as an American party candidate.

Mrs. Starnes said she had the $2,500 American party filing fee, but that there was no APA representative at the Capitol to accept it and qualify her to Secretary of State Kelly Bryant as a candidate.

John Norman Warnock of Camden, APA candidate for attorney general, talked with Mrs. Starnes, but he said he had no authority to accept her filing fee.

Mrs. Starnes later told newsmen that it was "un-American" that she could not file.

Warnock said he asked Mrs. Starnes if Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, the Republican incumbent, had given her the money to "come down here to file."

"She just blew up," Warnock said.

"I just wanted to know why and where she has been the last year while our party has been meeting and holding conventions," he said.

Mrs. Starnes said she had been a member of the Pulaski County Republican Committee before Rockefeller "took over," but that she had been a member of the American party since serving as a delegate to the convention that founded the APA in 1968.

German Envoy Freed

By GEORGE HAWRYLYSHYN
Associated Press Writer

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) —

The West German ambassador to Brazil was released unharmed Tuesday night, had a quick snack of orange juice and eggs and told newsmen he would tell them later about his five-day ordeal at the mercy of political kidnappers.

Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben was freed on a Rio de Janeiro street nearly 24 hours after the arrival in Algiers of 40 political prisoners whose freedom was demanded by the kidnappers. The diplomat was given a ride home by a young lawyer who recognized him.

It was the third political kidnapping in Brazil since last September, and the ninth of a diplomat by antigovernment forces in Latin America. All have been released unharmed except Count Karl von Sprei, the West German ambassador to Guatemala, who was murdered last April after the Guatemalan government refused to free prisoners demanded as ransom.

Von Holleben was pulled from his car last Thursday by nine young men and a woman carrying machine guns. They killed one Brazilian security guard and wounded two others before speeding the envoy away. Leaflets strewn on the street identified the kidnappers as members of the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard, an underground leftist group opposing the military regime in Brazil.

"Yes, I'm all right," the 61-year-old diplomat said as he got out of the car in front of his residence. He looked tired and worn, and his tan suit was wrinkled and creased, but he seemed to be in good shape otherwise.

Many Improvements In Art of Anesthesia

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Along with advances in surgical technique there have been many improvements in the science and art of anesthesia. Chloroform, ether and trichlorethylene have been largely replaced by halothane, fluoroxene, methoxyflurane and ketamine. Furthermore, the anesthesiologist now has improved methods of monitoring your pulse, blood pressure and respiration. As a result the surgeon is able to perform operations that were not possible 30 years ago.

Not only can the patient be put to sleep faster and without a struggle but also he can look forward to coming out of the anesthetic without feeling sick. Although most operations proceed without complications, the anesthesiologist is now equipped to handle any emergency that might arise.

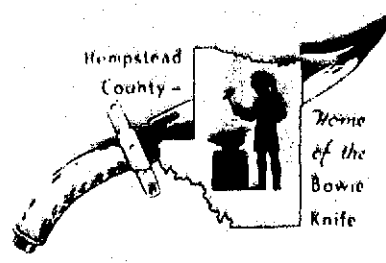

In many hospitals on the day before an operation your friendly anesthesiologist will pay you a brief but reassuring visit, explain what is to be expected and answer any questions that may be troubling you. This will not only reduce your worries but also assure better co-operation in the anesthetic room.

Many operations are now performed under spinal rather than inhalation anesthesia. This is accomplished by injecting a small amount of local anesthetic into the spinal canal below the termination of the spinal cord. The patient may or may not be awake during the operation but in some cases it is advantageous for him to remain awake.

Spinal anesthesia may also be safer than inhalation anesthesia, especially in elderly patients and for Caesarean sections. It cannot be used on children or persons who have lost a lot of blood.

For short operations a barbiturate may be injected into a vein.

Direct Talks With Egypt, U.S. Plan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, probing for a break in the Middle East crisis, is considering a direct approach to Egypt parallel with renewed Soviet-U.S. talks on developing an Arab-Israeli peace formula.

Such a step is being considered as part of a U.S. program which is expected to provide a pledge to Israel of additional jet planes to offset recently increased Soviet military help to Egypt.

Some highly placed officials are represented as hopeful the intensity of the present Middle East crisis may open up new opportunities for peace negotiations.

Others, remembering the failure of prolonged U.S.-Soviet talks last year, are skeptical.

President Nixon has yet to make a final decision on exactly what the diplomatic-military package will contain. His conclusions, first expected this week, may now not be completed until next week.

In order to avoid the maximum publicity of a White House announcement they probably will be disclosed by Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Up to now the administration appeared to be concentrating its efforts on searching with the Soviets for the statement of principles which would enable the Israeli and Arab governments, particularly Egypt, to eventually negotiate a settlement.

Officials now rule out exclusive reliance on the Soviets as a U.S.-Egypt go-between.

Either publicly or through diplomatic channels, or both, the probability is said to be high that Nixon will make recent indications that Egyptian President Nasser is interested in exploring the possibilities of peace — although U.S. officials remain pessimistic in most cases.

One Nasser move came in a May Day speech in which he appealed directly to President Nixon not to provide more military aid to Israel. He added that "in spite of all that has happened we have not closed the door to negotiations."

It is now said in official quarters that Nasser's May Day speech deserves and will receive a reply from President Nixon.

Charlton Heston Is a Fellow Who Does Things the Hard Way

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I have a theory that if anything is much fun it doesn't do you much good," said Charlton Heston.

The 6-foot-2 actor, conscientious in everything he does, at 45 still methodically runs two miles a day to keep in perfect physical condition.

"I don't jog — I run," he emphasized.

For a man with his stature in film and record of public activity, Heston — who likes to be called Chuck — keeps a rare and unbreakable aura of privacy. No one meeting him for the first time feels like slapping him on the back or telling him a funny story.

"I have a more sober public image than probably reflects the truth," he admitted. "But I do try to keep my private life private, and don't go out much. This creates the picture of a pretty square guy."

"Well, I do take very seriously what I take to be my duty."

Since he played Santa Claus in a school pageant at the age of 5, Chuck has portrayed with authority many larger-than-life figures. Besides acting as the offscreen voice of God, he has appeared as three presidents, several military heroes and two

Cougar Threatening Hiker Is Talked Out of It by Kind Words

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — A cougar clawed a woman who was out for a hike in a Canadian national park, but the Calgary woman gently talked the big cat out of renewing the attack, she said.

Daphne Smith said she was hiking Sunday in the Kootenay National Park, east of Radium Hot Springs, B.C., and had gotten separated from her companions. She said the cougar came running down a mountain and jumped her, knocking her down and clawing four deep gashes in her left forearm.

"I knew I had to get up immediately," Miss Smith reported. "Somehow my pack had come off and I held it in front of me. I talked as you would to a pet cat and began to back off slowly."

Miss Smith, a middle-aged office worker, said she believed

Labor Is Favored in British Vote Overtaken

LONDON (AP) — James Harold Wilson, the youngest British prime minister of the 20th century, apparently stands on the threshold of a political achievement that eluded the greatest of his predecessors — election to an unprecedented third straight term.

All public opinion polls indicate Wilson's Labor government will coast back into office in Thursday's general election of a new House of Commons. The Marplan poll, in the Times of London today, gave Labor an 8.7 per cent margin over the Conservatives and predicted a majority of up to 150 seats in the new House of Commons. But the Harris poll in the Daily Express put Labor's lead to 2 per cent, from 7 per cent a week ago.

Should Wilson win and serve a full five-year term, he will hold the nation's highest office for 10 years, two years longer than Sir Winston Churchill and longer than any British prime minister since Sir Robert Walpole 200 years ago.

Conservative Stanley Baldwin served five times and Churchill, another Tory, three times. But each lost elections in between terms.

For Wilson, the expected triumph is all the more remarkable because of the depths to which his prestige sank after he devalued the pound in November, 1967, and applied unpopular wage freezes, credit squeezes and tax boosts.

In the other case Monday, the Supreme Court also ruled that a draft board must reconsider the draft status of a man who offers pertinent new evidence supporting a claim for some other classification.

For instance, a man with a student or 1-A classification can offer proof — as did the subject of the second court decision — that he had since developed beliefs that make him a conscientious objector.

If his evidence appears at all serious, the local draft board must consider his claim. Draft officials have been counting heavily on June graduates, who were expected to lose their student deferments and become 1-A in time to help fill draft calls for the rest of this year.

But, coming on the heels of an unexpected drop of Army enlistments last month, the new avenue of conscientious objection casts further uncertainty on estimates that the draft need reach no higher than lottery number 215 this year.

If enlistments continue low, or if conscientious objection should increase seriously, the draft might have to call more men than expected.

Some 243,000 men graduated from college this spring, and about 191,000 were expected to be reclassified 1-A — available for service — over the next few months.

Of them, about 52,000 would probably be drafted this year under the Pentagon's current manpower estimates.

In fact, more than 36,000 have already had their draft numbers called and they will stand first in line as soon as local draft boards finish reclassifying them.

No Controls on Wages or Prices

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today the erection of a three-way governmental barrier to spiraling inflation, while promising:

"I will not take this nation down the road of wage and price controls."

Nixon thus gave way to increasing pressure for a policy of voluntary restraint on wages and prices.

In a nationwide TV-radio broadcast on economic policy, he lectured business and labor on their responsibility to refrain from excessive price markups and wage increases.

"The fight against inflation is everybody's business," the President said.

He announced these actions to pull the reins tighter on inflation:

1. A National Commission on Productivity will be named with representatives from business, labor, government and the public. Its duty will be to find ways of increasing output per worker and bringing a balance between cost and productivity to assure more stable prices.

2. Nixon directed the Council of Economic Advisers to prepare a periodic "inflation alert," to spotlight significant wage and price bulges and analyze their inflationary impact.

"This inflation alert will call attention to outstanding cases of price or wage increases and will be made public by the National Commission on Productivity," Nixon said.

3. A Regulations and Purchasing Review Board is being set up, to review federal purchasing procedures to assure that they do not drive up costs and prices; and to review import policy to see whether supplies can be increased to meet rising consumer demand without loss of jobs at home.

"This administration, by its spending restraint, has set the example in this past year; we believe we have now earned the credentials to call for similar restraint from business and labor to slow down inflation," Nixon said.

Nixon assures the nation that "a peacetime economy is clearly on the way." He promised:

"Our scheduled withdrawal of forces from Cambodia on June 30 will be kept."

"Our scheduled transition from a wartime economy to a peacetime consumer economy will be kept as well."

"While our economy adapts to the reordering of our national priorities and resources, we are undergoing a second great change. We are trying to do something that has never been done before; to avoid a recession while we bring a major inflation to an end."

"Now is the time" Nixon said, "for business at every level to take price actions more consistent with a stable cost of living, and now is the time for labor to structure its wage demands to better achieve a new stability of costs."

Just before the President went on the air, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., released a letter from Nixon saying he will use standby credit control authority voted him by Congress "if it appears to me that the nation's economic objectives would be served by so doing."

Patman is chairman of the House Banking Committee. The chairman had written Nixon that many members of the committee "are deeply concerned by the apparent inaction on the part of the federal government in the face of a mounting economic crisis."

Nixon replied: "I am pleased that you use the word 'apparent.' There are people who confuse talk with action and gimmicky with a fundamental attack on problems ... The country does not face 'a mounting economic crisis.' We are going through a period of difficulty as was inevitable once the 1965-68 inflation was allowed to develop."

Fulbright Unworried by Johnson's Plans for Recall Election

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Tuesday he was not worried about the movement headed by Jim Johnson to remove him from the Senate.

Asked at a news conference about Johnson's campaign to recall him, Fulbright said, "It's a free country."

He added that his views that have angered Johnson were known to the voters when they re-elected him two years ago. Fulbright defeated Johnson in the Democratic primary.

Fulbright, a critic of the war in Southeast Asia, also said his mail indicated that Arkansans support his views on the conflict.

The senator said he shared the opinion of others that the recall attempt is unconstitutional.

In a lengthy meeting with newsmen, Fulbright said that only a negotiated settlement would conclude the war.

"The vast majority of people think the war is a mistake and think the war ought to be ended," he said. "The difference is over how to end it, how to liquidate a bad venture."

Fulbright said he had serious doubts that President Nixon's plan of phased withdrawals would work in the long run.

He said the Senate's defeat of an attempt to amend the Cooper-Church amendment last week reflected current Senate sentiment to curtail presidential authority to widen the war.

World to Treble in Population in 80 Years, UN Forecasts

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Unless current trends change the world 80 years hence will have three persons for every one now living.

That is the projection of the U.N. secretariat, presented in a background paper to help a committee of experts suggest new studies on the relationships between population trends and economic development.

The paper says the world is "faced with the high probability that, if present trends continue, the inhabitants of the planet may outnumber 11 billion as early as the middle of the 21st century."

The estimated 1970 population is 3,382 billion.

The secretariat shows what it means by "present trends" in detailed projections to the end of the 20th century.

These indicate that from now till then the world's crude birth rate will fall a fourth—from 33.2 down to 25.1 live births per 1,000 people—while the crude death rate will fall a third—from 12.8 to 8.1 deaths per 1,000. Life expectancy at birth will rise to 66½ years from 55½.

That will bring the annual rate of world population growth down from 1970's 2 per cent to 1.7 per cent in the year 2000. After that, even though the growth rate may continue to decline, "the annual increments in population will continue to become larger."

The paper says the prospect of 11 billion human beings by 2050 may prompt reconsideration of the idea of stabilizing the world's population by somehow achieving a zero growth rate. But for the moment, it remarks, that idea is highly hypothetical.

In most developing countries, it says, high population growth "tends to increase the numbers of those segments of the population—illiterate, unskilled, agricultural, rural and the like—that were characteristic of pre-modern societies. Thus such growth 'is conducive to perpetuating economic backwardness, low productivity and inadequate living conditions.'"

"However," the paper says, "in view of the modest achievements of these programs, there is a growing appreciation that family planning alone cannot bring fertility to an adequate level, and that economic and social change has to pave the way for fertility control."

Place of Murder Is Described

By MARY NELL TURNER

When the Hempstead Circuit Court recessed today at noon the prosecution had presented seven witnesses during the morning in the case of State of Arkansas Vs. Richard Neal Williams.

They had established the place where the bodies of Paul R. Parsons and Mrs. LeDean Cassidy were found as west of Highway 4 on the Yancey Road, 180 feet west of Propp's Creek Bridge, Captain Milton Mosler, who investigated the crime, established the location and identified state's evidence taken from the scene.

Prosecuting Attorney W. H. (Dub) Arnold called to the stand Dr. Rodney Carlton who had performed autopsies on the bodies in Little Rock. He said that Mrs. Cassidy had received a gunshot through the left eye which perforated the eyeball and brain causing hemorrhage. He further said that Parsons' right eye was perforated by a bullet which entered into the brain causing laceration and death.

He said upon examination that Mrs. Cassidy had 150 milligrams per cent of alcohol and Parsons, 170 mg. per cent, a significant level of alcoholic content in his opinion.

Captain Paul McDonald of the state police identified the gun as a .22 caliber 8-shot firearm. Earlier in the morning Defense Attorney Lester E. Cole objected to six glossy photos presented by the prosecutor as being high inflammatory and not necessary since the testimony of the witness, Capt. Mosler, was sufficient. Judge W.H. Arnold III agreed with the defense.

tax Decision to Delay School

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — An official said Tuesday the state Supreme Court ruling declaring the real estate transfer tax unconstitutional had delayed by "two or three years" construction of a unit of the Arkansas Children's Colony at Jonesboro.

Keith Tudor of Arkadelphia, chairman of the state Board of Mental Retardation, said the Jonesboro unit would now have to be built from funds appropriated by the legislature.

Under the 1969 tax act, the Children's Colony would have received about 40 per cent of the revenue collected. Tudor said the colony would lose about $600,000 in revenue if the court's decision stands.

Tudor called Monday's decision by the Supreme Court the "most unpopular" ruling of the court in 25 years. He said it was "without basis or foundation."

Tudor said he hoped the opponents of the tax are "diligent" in securing financial aid for the colony in the next legislative session as they were in opposing the tax.

Dies Saving Life of Another

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Bobby Rollins, 30, of Heber Springs was killed today in the act of saving the life of a fellow worker.

Officials said Rollins was killed when he pushed Junior Borroughs out of the path of a Hogan truck that was backing up on the highway. The truck knocked Rollins underneath the wheels, crushing him.

Rollins, an employee of Ben M. Hogan Construction Co., was working on a road project near the Halliday community, five miles north of here on Arkansas 1 when the accident occurred.

Police said Rollins pushed Borroughs out of the path of a Hogan truck that was backing up on the highway. The truck knocked Rollins underneath the wheels, crushing him.

Texarkana to Vote on Manager

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — The Texarkana City Board of Directors has voted to suspend funding of future Model Cities contracts until there is a decision on a proposed change in the city's governmental structure.

The 3-2 decision does not affect Model Cities programs that are under way.

Director Jack Trigg made the motion Monday night to suspend funding because of a petition drive in Negro neighborhoods to require the election of directors by wards. Two would be elected at large. All are elected at large now.

The Committee for Representative Government, which is conducting the petition campaign so that there will be better representation of blacks in city government, said Tuesday the suspension of Model Cities funding was "political blackmail."

The committee said in a statement that the action seemed to say "you can have your change in government or your Model Cities program," but not both.
